THE 1927 LOWELLIAN

of the
Lowell District High School of Lowell, Indiana

PUBLISHED AND EDITED BY
The Senior Class

Foreword

We, the Senior Class of 1927, by inaugurating this Lowellian, have spent much time and put forth our best efforts in this annual, but it is for you, kind friends and members of the alumni, to judge our successes.

We wish all under-graduates success and honor in the coming years, and trust that they, too, will be inspired as we have been, by the precedent established by their predecessors.

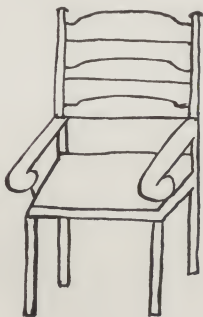

He who labors conquers.

To

Cecil A. Grayson

Whose work has enriched the school, whose presence has inspired our hearts, and whose kindly humor has filled our days with sunshine.

We, the Class of 1927, dedicate this book.

Men of aim must lead the aimless

To love is to remember

The Lapse of Time

Lament who will, in fruitless tears,
 The speed with which our moments fly;
 I sigh not over vanished years,
 But watch the years that hasten by.

Could I give up the hopes that glow,
 In prospect, like Elysian isles;
 And let the charming future go,
 With all her promises and smiles?
 —Bryant

A thing of beauty is a joy forever

Senior Class History

In 1923, just four hundred and thirty-one years after Columbus discovered the New World, an organization formed at the Lowell High School. It was nicknamed "The Freshman Class," but the original name was "The Class of 1927."

The requirements of each member was to have a receiving set that would receive four or more stations broadcasting on different wave lengths. Each station has its respective period for broadcasting, which was sometime between 8:45 a. m. and 4 p. m. Some Friday or Saturday nights basketball, football, or track meets were broadcasted. One did not need to tune in these programs, although he showed better school spirit if he did.

The batteries often ran down and the operator would recharge them while many lost interest in receiving and would not recharge their batteries. Others lost interest for a day or two at a time and would not listen. Every summer the weather conditions were such that receiving was difficult and we were not required to receive for three months.

The cost of broadcasting was paid through taxes and the receiving was free.

After four years of receiving from station "K-N-O-W-I-E D-G-E" some may tune into a bigger and greater powered station, others may work in the broadcasting business, and still others may start in broadcasting for themselves. Some may make failures, but may not lose courage, while others may do both. And so we will go on until our own station "L-I-F-E" will have to sign off.

LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL'S PRETTIEST GIRL

Holiday Festival

The festival opened at noon with a well planned and tempting lunch. Patrons came and went through the afternoon, but the majority did not arrive until six o'clock, when the appetizing Waffle Supper was served.

The lower hall was a series of Black and Crimson trimmed booths and attractive placards such as "See the World for a Nickel" and "The Four-Legged Baby." Different rooms contained all sorts of freaks and attractions such as the tea room, and moving pictures. The Cabaret with the "Topsy and Eva" act starring Mardy Rigg and Genevieve Hayhurst, and "Sam an' Henry" with their minstrel gang was the best attended event.

Beauty Contest

The Beauty Contest held in connection with the carnival opened a few days earlier. The prizes to be given were a box of candy and a full page picture in the "Lowellian."

The exciting time was during the last hour before the contest closed. All the young men of the school squandered their hoarded savings in order to win the favor of their fair ones. The race was between two Senior girls, Mary Alice Rigg and Marcella Dougherty. Mary Alice had been entered at about 10:15. The contest was to close at 10:30. The two people in charge of the contest had a hard time keeping track of the votes because they came in so fast.

When the contest closed the girls had the following number of votes:

Mary Alice Rigg	2140
Marcella Dougherty	1901
Louise Hamacher	750
Helen Schafer	505
Miss Kenyon	345
Jean Iddings	100

A lovely lady, garmented in light from her own beauty.

More Truth Than Poetry

Marcella—

Marcella came a stranger here,
In the beginning of the year,
She seemed a quiet timid Miss,
Soon we found out she wasn't this.

Neil—

What's in a name we wonder—why
Here's a boy whose name is Spry,
And here's one name that hits the tack,
For he is Spry—he's out for track.

Gladys—

When asked what she wanted to do—
When with school she was thru,
She said, "I need a vacation;
Think I'll stay near the railroad station."

Genevieve—

Genevieve Wood is this brunette's name,
She's a good hand at the pinochle game,
And when she gets her hand from the deck,
She blushes and says, "Oh, I've the Jack."

Louise—

That's Louise with the good-natured grin,
And it's the Senior class she's in,
If her friends and teachers plague,
She gives a sigh and says "You aig!"

Wayne—

There's also Wayne, with his saxophone,
The "horn of plenty;" oh, what a tone,
Oft-times when orchestra seemed quite dead,
He'd vary—and play six measures ahead.

Delta—

"I'm in a hurry—get out of my way,
Wait a minute—what did you say,
Was he really?—Who was that—
Who'd have thought—Why you little cat."

Irvin—

This little boy just studies away,
He's going to be in the Senate some day,
And then we'll have him propose a bill,
That will conform to the Seniors' will.

Catherine—

"Kak" has the Irish beauty and wit,
With Killarney's way of saying it,
"Sure and she can get a thrill,
From a date with Tom or Dick or Bill."

Viola—

Viola Gray comes to school each day,
In a perfect, logical, usual way,
She always looks so neat and keen,
She comes by the way of gasoline.

Madeline—

Tho' Madeline may seem sedate,
She's not much adverse to fate,
For every day we hear her say,
"Got a letter from my old man today."

Helen V.—

Some folk's thoughts are of silver or gold,
And others' thoughts are of joys untold,
Others' run to science or book,
But Helen's thoughts are of a "Brook."

Catherine S.—

"Oh, you're lucky"—"That's all right,"
Catherine never cuts or bites,
But just goes on from day to day,
Along her cheery peaceful way.

Helen S.—

Helen's quiet and resigning,
But she may be designing,
At least 'tis said her heart beats faster,
When a certain boy goes past her.

Neva Lue—

A sweet little maid, pretty and neat,
See her dance on her nimble feet,
An actress gay she fain would be,
And her as a Sylvia we'd like to see.

Bob—

Bob's the charming handsome sort,
Who has a girl in every port,
And when comes in the evening mail,
His daily letters come by bail.

Glen—

He may be small, but he's right there,
He handles all things clean and fair,
And when the Senior class is stuck,
They yell, "Let Ginny get his truck."

Irma—

Short and sweet and full of life,
She'll make some man a darling wife,
'Less at the altar she changes her mind,
And decides a better suitor to find.

Mary A.—

Mary's the girl of whom Cooky's most fond,
Why—because she's the traditional blonde,
And if all signs are true to pen,
It looks as tho' "blondes prefer gentlemen."

Windy—

Windy, the talented Basket Ball Star,
Oft as he played, his mind was afar,
And as the ball in the basket he'd place,
He'd think "South Chicago"—a smile 'd light his face.

Marye—

Long brown hair and eyes of blue,
The Priscilla type, serene and true,
She puts not her trust in shallow man,
But lives on the independent plan.

Keith—

Then there's Keith—we cannot think,
Why he with all his he-man strength,
Should scorn the girls and kill love's flame,
When he has "Love" as his last name.

Evelyn—

"Tweet-tweet," "Oh-oh," and "Up for air,"
These come from Evvy who hasn't a care,
But who with merry jest and fun,
Keeps us laughing at her pun.

Virginia—

Virginia's quite the student dear,
She also has full many a care,
For she's the girl who wrote all these,
We're sure they all are bound to please.

Junior Class History

When we, the Juniors of L. H. S., entered Lowell High School as Freshmen, we were nearly twice as numerous as we are now. When the excitement of the first few days subsided we settled down and chose our class officers. We elected Roger Steward, President; Samuel Sirois, Vice president; Vera Hayden, Secretary, and Jean Iddings, treasurer. We had several parties which we thoroughly enjoyed.

The next year we came back, as Sophomores, slightly diminished in numbers, but with increased confidence. Our officers for this year were Albert Surprise, President; Jean Iddings, Vice president; Dorothy Young, Secretary, and Harvey Taylor, Treasurer. We chose Miss Meehan for class advisor. We enjoyed two parties that year, being less bashful. Some of us took part in athletics and school activities.

As Juniors, our numbers have been lessened considerably, but our pride and self-importance have been increased proportionately. When we look down upon the poor struggling Freshmen, just getting a start in life, we feel very old and wise and important.

This year we have elected Harvey Taylor, President; Albert Surprise, Vice-president; Jean Iddings, Secretary, and Wayne Petry, Treasurer. Miss Boyle was chosen as class advisor. A Junior class benefit show, "The Sea-Hawk," was given, and this increased our finances materially. We have been well represented at football and basketball games this year, and we are planning a splendid banquet for the Seniors.

We are very proud of our past record, but we hope to do better in the future.

Sophomore Class History

It was upon a bright September morning in the year 1925, that a mass of Freshmen, green and innocent, yet filled with wonder, swarmed into the Lowell High assembly.

Class officers elected were: Sheridan Ruge, President; Lucile Searle, Vice-president; Glenn Steward, Secretary, and Florence McCord, Treasurer.

With the kind assistance and co-operation of teachers and the guidance of Seniors, the hard struggle was soon forgotten, and May found us an interested group of Loyal Boosters.

At length the greenness wore off; we became full fledged Sophomores. In entering this semester, the responsibility of electing officers added to the interest of the class. Those elected were: Glenn Steward, President; Charles Surprise, Vice president; Maxine Dinwiddie, Secretary, and Carmen Postlewait, Treasurer. Miss Meehan was chosen class advisor.

During our brief sojourn at Lowell High, many members of our class have distinguished themselves in school activities, for they have received not only business training, but social training as well. Athletics have claimed a great part of the attention of the group. The boys have done their part in the fields of baseball, football, basketball and track.

The help and advice of our advisor, Miss Meehan, has been appreciated. As the summer months go by and September once more opens the doors of Lowell High, it will be the aim of all who can, to return and finish two more years in order to weather the stormy gales of tomorrow.

F. McCord.

Freshman Class History

This is station L. H. S. located at Lowell, Indiana, now broadcasting the history of the class of '30.

We, fifty-four Freshmen, entered Lowell High School, trembling at the thought of initiation; but, when we learned they could do us no physical harm, we decided there was no danger.

We were called "Freshies," or around the hall we heard such remarks as these, "Freshmen are so green," or "Just like a Freshman." After we heard such remarks, we were determined to show the upper classmen what a good class we had.

First our programs were arranged and after we found the right classrooms (which was often hard to do) we began real work. The second week we had a class meeting. At this meeting it looked as if there were more boys than girls, and the following officers were elected: William Grayson, President; Davis Driscoll, Vice-president; Eugene Van Swearinger, Secretary; John Eskridge, Treasurer. Mr. A. E. Botkins was chosen class advisor.

Some Freshmen have been active in the Boys' Glee Club, the Patti Club, and the Itaretel Club. And we had parties which were always enjoyed by every one present.

Station L. H. S. signing off till next year when we can broadcast our Sophomore year.

Sept. 19—Mishawaka, there.

Sept. 26—Kentland, here.

Oct. 3—Froebel, there.

Oct. 17—LaPorte, there.

Oct. 24—Whiting, there.

Oct. 31—Hammond Tech., here.

Nov. 7—Momence, here.

Nov. 11—Manteno, here.

Lowell 0—Mishawaka 57

This was the first game of the season and only four experienced men were playing. In the third quarter Mishawaka sent in most of the second team, but they were forced to withdraw because of Lowell's gains.

Lowell 2—Kentland 0

This was the first home game of the season. Kentland kicked off and Lowell carried the ball down to about mid-field where there was a deadlock. Good work, but neither team scored. In the third quarter, Lowell took Kentland down the field to their second yard line and then lost the ball. Kentland kicked, but was blocked and the ball fell back of the goal line, scoring us a safety of two points.

Lowell 0—Froebel 100

Lots of alibis for this game and yet we had to admit that Froebel had a good team; so did Lowell, if they had only thought so. Once in a while Lowell got the right view of things and Froebel didn't find it so easy picking. Dark boys, together with a few whites, turned victory into defeat.

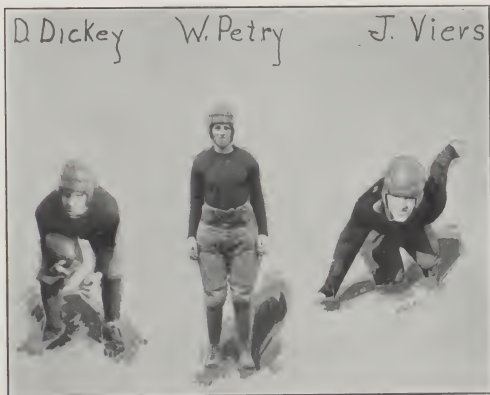

Lowell 0—LaPorte 18

Lowell kicked off to LaPorte, but the ball was recovered by Lowell on the fifty-yard line. Brouhard went through right tackle for a run of twenty yards, but he fumbled the ball. Early in the second quarter LaPorte made a touchdown, but the try for goal failed. In the second half Brouhard got away for a long run which put Lowell again within scoring distance. In the last few minutes LaPorte crossed the goal line twice. The game ended with the ball in Lowell's territory.

Lowell 0—Whiting 43

Lowell kicked off. Whiting made a short return and was held for downs. Lowell outplayed them in the first quarter until Hart's men put over a touchdown. After the first touchdown, Lowell's men lacked the necessary spirit and failed to put up a real fight. Love did good work on both offense and defense. Brouhard held his place in the backfield and Captain Brown at the end. This was the first game won by Whiting this season.

Lowell 2—Hammond Tech 28

Tech kicked off and Lowell returned the ball to about mid-field. Although Hammond made one touchdown, neither side made much gain during the half. Towards the last, Brouhard carried the ball to the thirty-yard line, tried a pass, but the pass was intercepted by Parker, Tech's sub for L. T., who made a safety—for Lowell! This counted two points for the local school.

Lowell 0—Momence 18

Momence kicked and Lowell return the ball to mid-field. Lowell advanced to Momence's five-yard line, but was held for downs. Then Momence carried the ball to about mid-field, where Lowell's defense tightened and held Momence. Both teams played hard and the half ended 0-0. In the third quarter Momence came back making three touchdowns by real playing. Ruge was knocked out and others felt the effect of the Momence line. In the last quarter Lowell showed some real football, but it was too late except to hold Momence from another touchdown.

Lowell 6—Manteno 0

Lowell kicked to Manteno. Brouhard and Guritz worked their out-side kick and Ruge recovered. Lowell then proceeded to march down the field with Ruge, Brouhard, and Dickey making the gains. Manteno tightened their defense and forced Lowell to get busy. Brouhard made a nice punt and Manteno returned to about the twenty-yard line. Manteno started out for a touchdown, but Ruge ran him down. The half ended 0 0. Brannock substituted for Dickey in the last half. Manteno kicked and Love returned to the forty-yard line, where the ball was lost. Manteno punted and Brannock went through center for a gain and then Brouhard went fifty yards for a touchdown. Ruge kicked for the point and missed. In the last minute to play Lowell was again within six inches of a touchdown. Signals were given, and the gun cracked.

NEXT YEAR'S FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Sept. 7—Manteno, here.

Sept. 24—Rensselaer, there.

Oct. 1—LaPorte, here.

Oct. 8—Momence, there.

Oct. 19—Kentland, there.

Oct. 29—Hammond Tech, there.

Basketball Squad

Top Row: Mr. Grayson, Norman Richter, Bob Brannock, Shirley Burton, Sammy Sirois, Leonard Nichols, Mr. Botkin.

Second Row: Sheridan Ruge, Jack Taylor, Windy Brouhard, Stub Surprise, Bob Love, Swede Nelson.

First Row: John Iddings, Ivan Brouhard.

Big Five Red Devils

Mr. Grayson, Norman Richter, Shirley Burton, Bob Love, Mr. Botkin
 Sheridan Ruge, Winslow Brouhard, Ivan Brouhard,
 Leonard Nichols, Albert Surprise

Lowell 12—Hebron 20

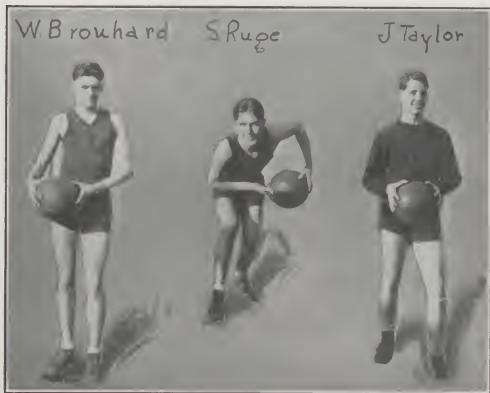

This was the first game of the season for Lowell and fourth for Hebron. Windy, Gus, and Richter each made four points. Lowell showed lack of practice.

Lowell 11—Valpo 70

This was a fast game, but not very interesting. Lowell showed lack of team work. It was a good practice game for Valpo. Windy made one field goal.

Lowell 19—Morocco 31

These teams were rather evenly matched. Both were out to "bring home the bacon" and it looked as if the home boys were going to do it. Windy's dribbling and shooting forged Lowell ahead in the first half, but Morocco came back strong in the last half, and the game ended in their favor; although they had to fight for it.

Lowell 35—Rensselaer 39

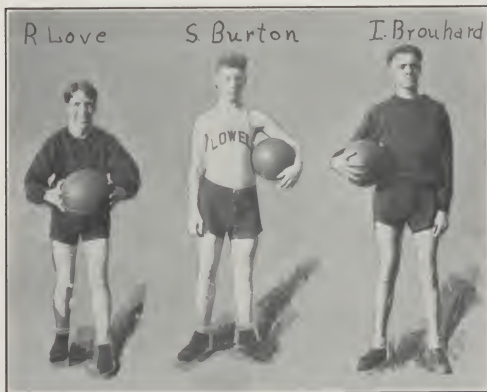

Lowell went through Grant Park's defense time after time, but did not always connect with the basket. Ebert was high point man with nine points to his credit. Ivan Brouhard and Glen Yates played a good game.

Lowell 28—Fair Oaks 19

A fast game. Lowell started a new system of play which worked better. Ruge came through with five field goals to his credit. Many easy shots were missed by both teams. Once it looked like another Morocco victory, but Lowell greatly outplayed the visiting team.

Lowell 23—Valpo 27

This was not such easy picking for Valpo as the other game. Windy started the ball rolling. Ruge and Ivan ran the score to eight points before Valpo awoke. Gus played a star game at back guard. In the last half Ivan and Ebert were put out on personals and Brannock and Love were sent in. Valpo won on long shots.

Lowell 18—Momence 16

Here was a fast, furious game, with plenty of excitement, and tense waiting. The low ceiling put Lowell at a disadvantage. Momence led during the first half. One minute before the end of the second half, Lowell was ahead; a foul was called and Momence tied the score. In the overtime Ruge made a basket putting Lowell's score ahead. Again Momence tied the score. Windy was hurt, but he kept on playing and in the last few seconds he dribbled down the floor and passed to Love who sank the ball, thus winning the game.

Lowell 33—Griffith 17

The teams were about evenly matched at first, but the longer they played the weaker Griffith became, and the more pep Lowell obtained. It was an easy game for Lowell all the way through, but was not very interesting in the last half.

Lowell 14—Hebron 16

This was another hard fought game. Windy was playing under the handicap of an injury he had received the week before. The score at the half was 11-13 in favor of Hebron. Only three points were scored by each team during the last half.

Lowell 21—Hobart 40

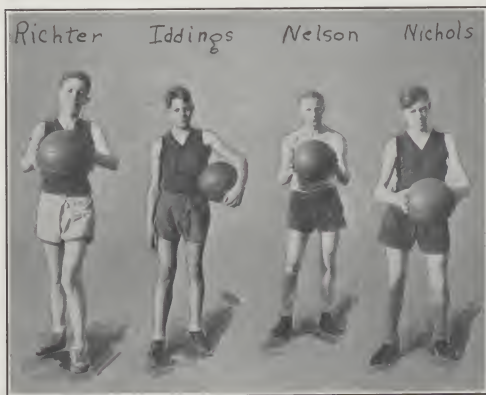

With Taylor, our regular forward declared ineligible on Thursday night and Ebert on Friday, the disorganized Lowell team made a fair showing against Hobart.

Lowell 33—Manteno 18

Lowell started hard and fast, their new plays working to perfection: they got an early lead and held it throughout the entire game. Manteno came back stronger in the second half, but could not begin to overcome the lead made by the "Red Devils." Taylor was high point man, and Ivan and Stub made several field goals.

Lowell 26—Grant Park 14

The "Illini" boys returned with a great come-back. It wasn't as easy this time, but was just as sure. Very clean sportsmanship was displayed throughout the game. The "Illini" boys showed great improvement over former game.

Lowell 35—Rensselaer 39

This was the fastest game of the season and kept the fans on their toes all the way through. Ivan was the first to get a basket for Lowell. In the first half Lowell led most of the time; but, when Rensselaer did get in the lead, the Lowell boys slowed down. In the second half, Rensselaer got an eleven-point lead; then, Windy decided it was time to score, making ten points in three minutes. It was a close shave for Rensselaer.

Lowell 16—Wolcott 26

Although the Lowell boys did some real fighting at times, this was a slow game. Wolcott made their gain early and held it throughout the game. Lowell was not able to connect with the basket.

Lowell 43—Manteno 25

Nichols started the scoring with a field goal and Taylor soon followed it with another. Windy made three baskets in less than a minute. The Lowell five were then taken out and the second team put in. Manteno fought hard in the second half, but were unable to score.

Lowell 34—Morocco 27

The game was fast from start to finish, and next to the best game of the season. Windy was again high point man scoring sixteen points. The score went by leaps and bounds.

Lowell 31—Remington 18

Not very much speed was shown by Remington, but, even at that, they made the Red Devils work. The Lowell boys' defense was as tight as a clam. Windy was high point man, making six field goals.

Lowell 21—Hobart 38

The jinx seemed to shut down on the Red and Blacks. Hobart played over their heads. Many shots which should have been easy were missed.

Lowell 36—Griffith 30

The last game of the season was an over-time game with a great deal of excitement. There was no outstanding player, all playing a consistent game. This was a good way to end the season for the Red and Black.

EMERSON TAKES TOURNEY AT EAST CHICAGO

Hammond 20—Roosevelt 28

The Hammond boys started strong in this game, but the Rough Riders gradually overcame the lead and won the game.

Emerson 38—Whiting 14

Emerson was expected to win, but not by such a large score. Whiting came back in the second half and managed to hold the score down.

Froebel 41—Horace Mann 9

The little players from Horace Mann fought hard, but were unlucky on shots, allowing Froebel to run up a large score.

Lowell 39—Griffith 21

The Red Devils showed the crowd that the game was theirs from the first. The game was fast and there was some spectacular playing. Lowell had the lead from the start.

Hobart 51—Merrillville 1

Merrillville has played and practiced under difficulties, but a good team is promised for them.

Roosevelt 29—East Chicago 23

This game was a great upset to the majority of the fans and East Chicago was broken-hearted, but the Little Roosevelt five played to perfection having almost perfect team work.

Emerson 26—Froebel 16

This was the second big upset of the tourney, as Froebel had not lost a game and had beaten Emerson twice.

Hobart 32—Lowell 13

The teams played a tie till the Red Warriors became unlucky on shots. Hobart had very good team work.

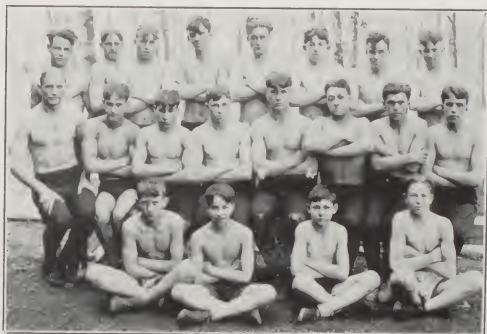

Emerson 42—Roosevelt 12

Roosevelt started well, but were tired from the preceding games and couldn't keep up with the Norsemen.

FINALS

Emerson 32—Hobart 20

The final game was a fast one and the big Norsemen won the Tourney, after being the Underdogs all year. Their team work was wonderful and their ability in shooting was the same. It seemed as if no one could break through their five-man defense.

Wrestling Squad

Top Row: Dale Goings, Wilfred Childers, Neil Spry, Donald Dickey, Wayne Mansfield, Wayne Petry, Harvey Taylor, Elmo Schultz.

Second Row: Coach Gardiner, Ernest Nichols, Gleyne Brown, Ralph Spry, Keith Love, Raphatel Tuuk, John Viers, Bob Love.

First Row: Ronald Strickhorn, William Grayson, Elmer Haberlin, Harold Childers.

WRESTLING SCHEDULE

Feb. 4—Wabash, there.

Mar. 12—Michigan City, here.

Feb. 19—Michigan City, there.

Mar. 19—Wabash, here.

Mar. 25-26—State Meet at Bloomington

Lowell 0—Wabash 72

This was the first meet in which any of the Lowell boys had taken part. In fact, hardly any of them had ever seen a real wrestling meet. Wabash had several state champions against whom the Lowell boys made a good showing. When this meet was over, Lowell had much more experience which was worth nearly as much as bringing home a score.

Lowell 50—Michigan City 36

This was our second meet. Our boys did some splendid work which brought us the better end of the score. Michigan City had some tough men, but Lowell had some which were just a little tougher. H. Childress, Hab-erlin, Schultz, and R. Spry all made a good showing.

Lowell 32—Michigan City 52

This was our first home meet. It was a good meet and the best of sportsmanship was shown. The Red and Black Wrestlers were not up to their usual form and consequently lost.

Lowell 16—Wabash 54

We showed them different opposition to what we did when we were there. This was Wabash's twenty-sixth straight victory. Nichols made an especially good showing; he was the only one that downed his man.

STATE MEET AT BLOOMINGTON

On the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth of March, Coach Gardiner entered in the state meet at Bloomington the follow men:

H. Childers	100 lb. class
R. Strickhorn	108 lb. class
Gleyn Brown	115 lb. class
D. Goings	125 lb. class
R. Spry	135 lb. class
K. Love	175 lb. class

This is the first year Lowell has taken part. The Lowell boys did well considering they went up against men of three and four years' experience. Wabash took the meet with thirty-five points. Bloomington was a close second with thirty-four points.

Track Squad

Second Row: Frances Cronkhite, Neil Spry, Halley Blanchard, John Viers, Robert Brannock, Samuel Sirois, Raphael Tuuk, Coach Gardiner.

The Patti Club was organized in 1924 under the supervision of Grace Hathaway, musical instructor. A constitution was drawn up and adopted and the club was named Patti, in remembrance of Adeline Patti, famous Spanish singer.

After three successful years, Miss Hathaway resigned and was followed this year by Miss Mary Bailey.

Under Miss Bailey the club has participated in various events. They have sung at several entertainments, have successfully sponsored "Once in a Blue Moon," a musical romance in three acts, and have participated in the Choral contest, as in preceding years.

The boys' Warbling Society was organized in the year of '24 under the supervision of Miss Grace Hathaway, musical instructor. At the beginning of the school year of '27 they were reorganized by Miss Bailey, who took the place of Miss Hathaway. With their help and co-operation the operetta, "Once In a Blue Moon," was successfully given. They have helped at various entertainments, and were again entered in the local and county contests.

Orchestra

The high school orchestra was organized at the beginning of this school year by Miss Mary Bailey, music supervisor. There was a total enrollment of twelve members.

Though somewhat inexperienced, the orchestra has taken part in several events. It has played at most of the home basketball games, taken part in programs given at school and elsewhere. Many times organizations in Lowell have called upon different members of the orchestra for solos.

Itaretil Club

President	Lucile Searle
Vice-president	Jean Iddings
Secretary-treasurer	Harvey Taylor

The Itaretil Club was organized November 17, 1921, with Fabian Henry as its first president. Its purpose was to stimulate interest in the literary side of high school life. Itaretil, or "literary" with the letters reversed, was adopted as the club name.

A constitution was drawn up with the rule that there was to be not more than fifty members enrolled, all of which must be eligible in grades. The regular meeting night was the first Tuesday of each month. These rules are still binding although various amendments have been made.

The club is the oldest organization in Lowell High and the annual benefit play and spring banquet were always anticipated features. The play was not given this year due to inability to obtain the theater. The banquet was also eliminated because of the late organization of the club. However, their main meetings were on the literary line. A playlet was given at one meeting and another meeting was devoted entirely to the biographies of great men. Miss Boyle was chosen the advisor for the year.

Cooking Class

The cooking class, supervised by Miss Kenyon, has been very successful. It has ten members who work in couples. The class work has been principally of cooking, planning of meals, and home supervision.

Besides the class work, the girls have cooked and served the High School Cafeteria lunch at noons. Many of the birthdays have been celebrated by parties.

The Agriculture Club

After the opening of school in the fall of 1926, the boys in the Agricultural classes began to carry on the regular line of Club Work which had aroused so much interest among farm boys in the past.

The first club meeting was held the first Tuesday in November. The following boys, aided by Mr. Dunbar, were chosen to lead the club.

THE SITUATION

Peggy O'Mara is a young woman of frank independence, who doesn't in the least understand why she should be ruled over or governed by anything but her honest wholesome impulses. She has a habit of plunging into the affairs at hand without counting consequences or cost to herself or others. Her mother, the widow O'Mara, a lively, if older, edition of her daughter, is set on a marriage between Peggy and Lord Anthony Crackenthorpe. Sir Anthony's relatives regard him as a "good thing" to keep in the family, they don't want to lose him, and Peggy doesn't want to marry him. Instead, Peggy hatches a little plan of her own by which Sir Anthony shall be married to her mother. These two cross-lines of action meet in the efforts of the relatives to have Jimmy Keppel, Sir Anthony's young brother dazzle Peggy on his own account, and Peggy's decision to feign an elopement with Jimmy to offset her mother's plan for her and Sir Anthony. Peggy and Jimmy fall in love with each other, and settle matters to their own, and every one else's satisfaction at the fall of the curtain.

THE ARGUMENT

After an absence of four years at college, Bob Harrington is expected to return to the home of his foster aunt, Mrs. Mary Montgomery, whose daughter, Sylvia, was his boyhood sweetheart. Having fallen in love with another girl at college, he sends his chum, George Taylor, who closely resembles him, to substitute for him at the week-end party. George has always been anxious to meet Sylvia, whose picture greatly attracts him. His arrival finds Sylvia more charming than her photograph.

Unexpected guests in the persons of Sir Percival Chetwood and M. Rene LeMon arrive and are welcomed as distinguished noblemen, and invited to remain for the festivities. That night while the guests are dancing, a robbery takes place and the suspicion is turned on George, who is forced to disclose his identity. Things look dark for him until the guilty parties are brought to justice. A telegram from the real Bob Harrington announcing his marriage leaves George free to finish the story in the approved fashion.

"That young bride worships her husband, doesn't she?"
 "Well, she places burnt offerings before him every day."

Green—"Where are those duck eggs I brought home yesterday?"
 Mrs. Green—"I put them under the hen."
 Green—"Under the hen? I wanted to hatch ducks from those eggs."

ONE TOO MANY

Two Irishmen, one accompanied by his wife, met on the street.
 Said Pat to Mike—"Let me present me wife to youse."
 "No thank ye," replied Mike, "Oi got one of my own."

Customer—"What is that I smell?"
 Merchant—"Do you smell it, too?"
 Customer—"Yes. What is it?"
 Merchant—"Business. It's rotten."

"My girl has a beautiful embroidered handkerchief which she claims cost twenty dollars."
 "Twenty dollars! That's a lot of money to blow in."

Tommy—"Do you love me, darling?"
 Jean—"Of course I do, Donny."
 Tommy—"Donny! My name's not Donny; it's Tommy."
 Jean—"Why so it is. I keep thinking that this is Monday."

First Neighbor—"I suppose your husband has been taking on new life since he's been sleeping out of doors."
 Second Neighbor—"Well, I guess he has, judging by the way he
 -cratches himself."

Captain—"Do you see that captain on the bridge twelve miles away?"
 Bob—"Aye, aye, sir."
 Captain—"Let him have one of those twelve inch shells in the eye."
 Bob—"Which eye, sir?"

HOW TO SPOT 'EM

Bootleggers—Their stimulating presence.
 Bandits—Their stunning greeting.
 Business Men—Their company manners.
 Reformers—Their forbidding countenances.
 White Wings—Their sweeping generalizations.
 Photographers—Their taking ways.
 Foreign Celebrities—Their far-fetched conclusions.
 Flappers—Their loving attitudes.
 Electricians—Their illuminating remarks.
 Star Boarders—Their far-reaching effects.
 Dry Cleaners—Their pressing invitations.
 Editors—Their quick comebacks.
 Writers—Their hungry look.

"Aha," said the egg as it splashed a bit. "I was cast for the villain and I've made a hit."

A gentleman having business with Mr. Brown, a farmer, inquired of the farmer's boy where the old man was to be found.

"He's out in the pig-pen doctoring a sick pig," replied Ginnie, and added as an illuminating afterthought, "Pop's the one with the hat on."

"Have you had your iron today?"

"Well, I've bitten my nails."

Louise B. (while watching the farmer's cows)—"What are those things on the cow's head?"

Just then the cow bawled.

"Which horn did she blow that time?"

Our Wish

Just a place for our class among High School fame,
 Just a fond remembrance, no thought of blame,
 Just a bit of esteem for the annual we made,
 Just some deep appreciation for the part we've had,
 Just a pleasant, sweet, good wish for each lass and lad, the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million (1990–1999) and is projected to increase by a further 1.5 million by 2010 (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the health of older people and to reduce the burden of disease and disability in this population. The Department of Health has set a target to reduce the prevalence of chronic disease in older people by 10% by 2010 (Department of Health 2000). This target is based on the assumption that the prevalence of chronic disease in older people will increase by 20% by 2010 (Office for National Statistics 2000).
